"Cruisin' Into The 90's"

Night Cruisin' in front of My Store on Walnut St. is a weekend ritual.

CHS cruises into the 90's

This year we wave goodbye to the 80's as we cruise on into the 90's. With the dawning of a new decade comes change, and Cameron High School is no exception. The 89-90 school year brought asbestos-free ceilings, restored lockers, and fresh new faculty members. Our administration also adopted the slogan, "committed to excellence; expecting the best" as our theme. The changing times also brought CHS a break-in, which inadvertently resulted in new VCRS, televisions, computers, and a copier.

One thing hasn't changed; Cameron teenagers still like to cruise. In fact cruising is probably more popular than ever. Every fifteen-year old impatiently awaits D-day. Of course this has nothing to do with war, but with the arrival of a sixteenth birthday and the taking of a drivers test. This allows students to join the ranks of cruisers.

The street known as Walnut is by far the most popular cruising area. Cameron students share this cruising site with a few alumni and even teens from other schools. Walnut is a big attraction because along it are various fast food restaurants, gas stations, convenience stores and, importantly, an easy turn around.

Teenagers enjoy cruising because it offers a chance to get out of the house. Another attraction is being with friends and seeing people from the area they don't see during the day. It also allows for time away from home.

Cruising is a tradition that doesn't seem likely to change, no matter how many decades begin. As long as there are cars, there will be teenage cruisers having fun.

The lights of Cameron illuminate the street, lighting the way for the evening cruisers.

Surprised by the camera, Lori Quigley and Darla Williams, choir members await their performance at Hardees. The caroling was a fund raiser for their trip to Tan-Tar-A.

The National Honor Society car in the homecoming parade driven by Darla Williams boasts the slogan "Carpe Diem," Latin for "seize the day."

Dragons Make History

The 1989 football season was a historic one for the Dragons, as they captured the district and sectional titles for the first time in Cameron's history. They also finished in a tie for second place in the KCI Conference. By winning the district, the "jinx" was broken and they became one of the final eight teams in the state with the Sectional victory over St. Pius X.

The team was forced to rebound from two tough losses of one point and ended the regular season at 4-3, but all three losses were by three points or less. Losing only by three to the eventual KCI champ West Platte, the underdog Dragons went into Districts confidently. In Districts, the Dragons outscored their opponents 123-3, scoring 85 of those points in rout of St. Mary's (85-0).

St. Pius X came into sectionals on a streak but was soon stopped by the Dragons with a "nail-biter" victory of 21-20. The team was then to face the Butler Bears and state rushing champ Robbie Allen. The season came to an end after this hard-fought loss, but history was made as the team was one of the last eight left in the state. To bring this season to a close once and for all, the team would like to say one thing — "HOLY MOLY!!!"

The 1989 Freshman Dragons were quite successful with a 5-1 record. The only loss coming on the second to the last game with a close and hard fought loss to the Bulldogs of Trenton. However the Dragons knocked off the East Buchanan Bulldogs twice, scoring 50 points total to East Buchanan's mere 12. According to coach Daryl Hane, the freshmen had a good season and hopefully the tradition of excellent Cameron football will be carried on as these young men progress to the varsity level. these young men progress to the varsity level.

The 1989-90 Varsity boys basketball season again proved successful, as for the second straight year the team moved to within a game of playing in the State Tournament. A 19-6 record was recorded by the Dragons, while the team finished second in the KCI conference. Also winning the District 16 crown with a thrilling 68 - 64 victory over Albany. Underclassmen were also required to give their all as only three seniors made up the team for the majority of the year. "Underclassmen stepped into starting positions and did a great job," said Coach Allman. Allman also added, "Underclassmen show great potential and will continue the excellence of basketball at CHS." As for the 3 seniors they showed great poise and leadership in overcoming many obstacles on their way to a great basketball season.

Administration Leads to Success

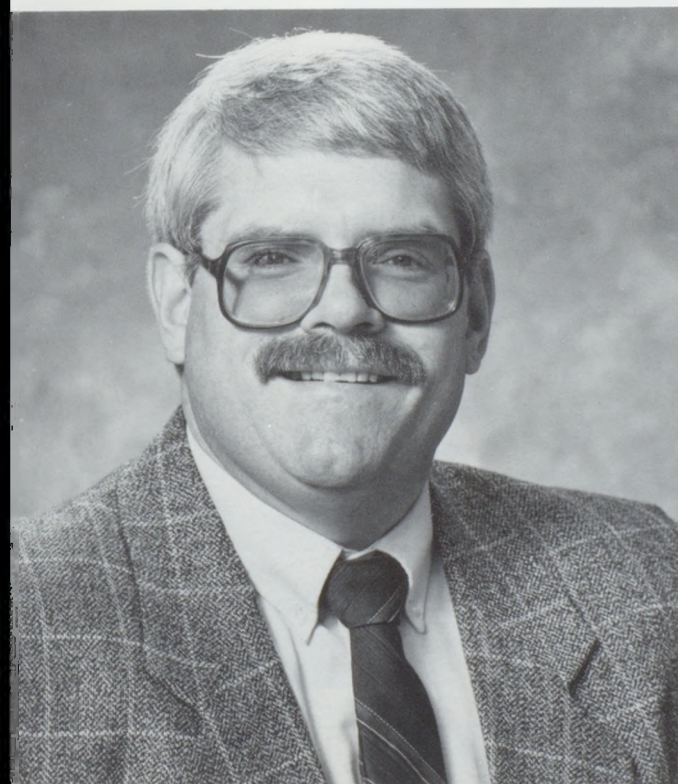

Darrell Walker, Superintendent

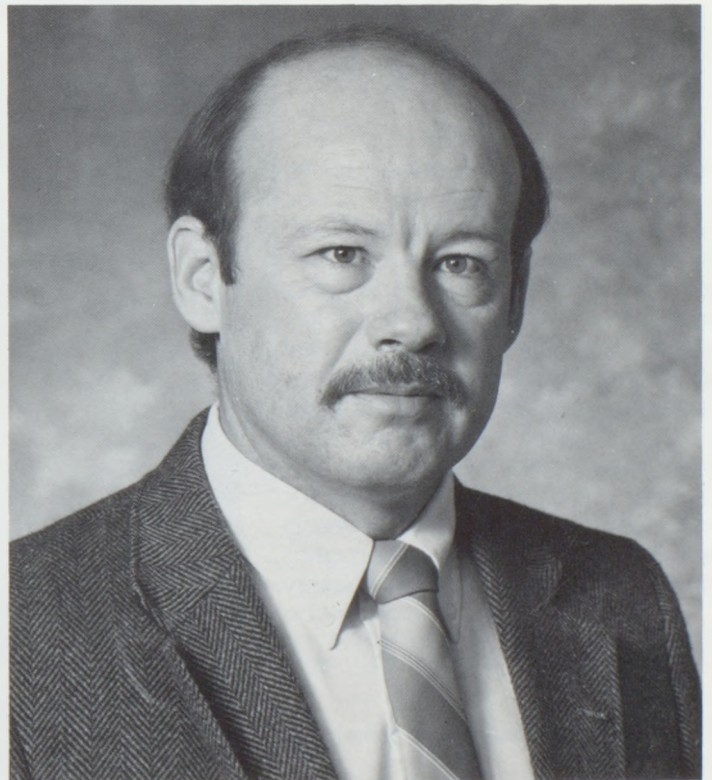

"I would like to thank the students, parents, and other patrons of the Cameron R-I School District for allowing me to serve as your Superintendent of Schools for the past twenty-three years. A special thank you to the various members of the Boards of Education for whom I served.

The 1989-90 school year will complete my tenure as a school administrator. It had been a very enjoyable career and one that has been very rewarding and satisfying to me personally. It has been a privilege for me to have the opportunity to be associated with the many fine students that have attended the Cameron Schools, and to work with the staff members that have served the district."

Staff Strives for Excellence

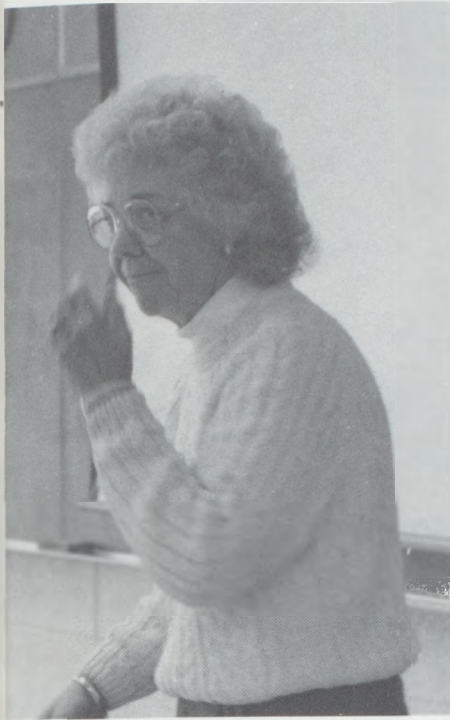

Implementing all the changes that occurred in the 1989-1990 school year was the 35-teacher staff, which includes the six new teachers that joined the faculty this year. Among them were three in the language arts department, a new math teacher, a biology and general science teacher, and a vocational home economics teacher. All of these new faces were hired because of the administration's added emphasis on curriculum development in such areas as mathematics, science, language arts, and history.

Behind scenes people work hard

Although rarely recognized, many people at CHS are required to keep the school running smoothly. These people help with maintenance of the building, bus driving, office work, cooking, and assistance in the library. Students as well as personnel contribute to these duties and help avoid chaos. Their assistance is much needed and greatly appreciated.

Tom Worland, Mark Ramsey, and Jeff Mellencamp are eighth grade class officers.

One of the eighth graders' biggest challenges is to smoothly make the transition from middle school to high school. They abruptly go from being the biggest and baddest in one building to the youngest man on the totem pole in high school. But they survive the drastic change and grow throughout the year as they adapt to their new environment.

For the first time, eighth graders have an opportunity of entering a float in the parade.

Juniors Prepare to Take Control

Juniors confront many responsibilities. One is to build a float for Homecoming and participate in "Spirit Week". The biggest challenge for juniors traditionally is to raise money for prom. The class of '91 chose the usual fund raisers, such as working concession stands and magazine sales. Class officers in charge of delegating responsibility, as pictured, were Mike Patti, secretary; Nicki Roach, treasurer; Glenn Mommens, vice-president; and Jason Jones, president.

Student

Life

Camera, lights, action

After hours of hard work rehearsing and constructing sets, the cast and crew of "Tom Sawyer" debuted on November 16 at Goodrich Auditorium.

In addition to the members of the cast and crew, first and seventh hour speech classes toiled to recreate mid-nineteenth century St. Petersburg, Missouri to establish the play's setting. The specially-prepared sets not only brightened the stage, but they also provided a backdrop for Tom Sawyer, portrayed by Dan Mommens, to come to life.

Tom, the character created by Mark Twain, has the habit of finding himself in the wrong place at the right time. From the opening scene when Tom wrestles with Jeff Thatcher, played by Glenn Mommens, to the struggle for survival against Injun Joe in the cave, Tom engages in a battle of wits with everyone who comes in contact with him.

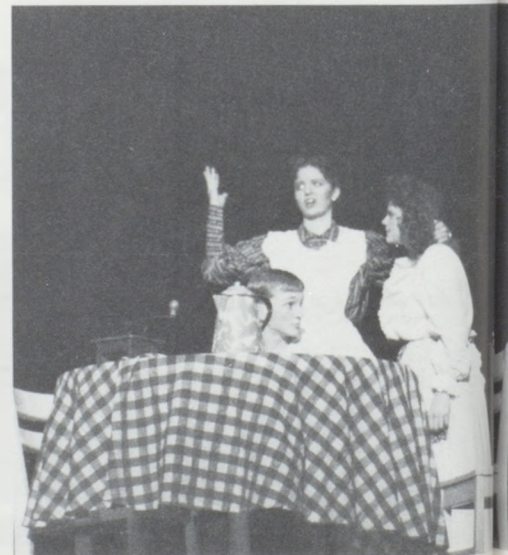

The spectators were allowed to become participants as cast members delighted viewers by speaking, and on one occasion stabbing, members of the audience.

"Outstanding show!" was faculty director Paula Strange's reaction to the performance by her student stars.

Tom Sawyer (Dan Mommens) tries without avail to get Becky Thatcher (Angela Zwygart) to believe that his engagement to Amy Lawrence meant nothing.

Aunt Polly (Kristy Buck), Cousin Mary (Darla Williams) and Sid Sawyer (Chris Neal) lament over the fun and tribulations of raising a boy like Tom Sawyer.

Conniving Tom Sawyer (Dan Mommens) tricks the village boys, Thad Skidmore, Dorsie Randall, Amy Coy, Darrin Kuhn and Jeff Thatcher (Glenn Mommens) into doing his punishment for him, painting the fence.

The village boys, Thad Skidmore and Darrin Kuhn, ask Huck Finn about "the best kind of livin'."

Sid Sawyer (Chris Neal) enraptures the audience with his resounding voice.

Sharp Reigns As Homecoming Queen

On October 6, Amy Sharp was crowned the 1989 Homecoming Queen. The process of electing the Homecoming Royalty began with the varsity football team electing one Sophomore attendant, one Junior attendant, and three Senior candidates. The queen was then chosen by the popular vote of the student body and crowned at the coronation ceremony. Preceding the coronation ceremony was the bonfire, which was held on Thursday evening. The Homecoming parade, football game, and dance followed the coronation ceremony on Friday.

A traditional bonfire was held at the football field during homecoming week, raising the spirits of all who attended. Former student Jack Crouch gave the pep talk while the cheerleaders began lighting the fire. The band and the pom-pom squad also performed during the bonfire festivities.

Friday afternoon the true homecoming activities began with the coronation ceremony. Queen Amy Sharp was crowned by senior football player Chad Foreman and presented with gifts from Travis Holzfooter, a senior football player, and Paul Worstell, president of the student council. 1984 grad Ryan Restine was the guest coronation speaker. Ryan spoke on pride in the community. To end the coronation ceremony victory pins were awarded to the football players by the varsity cheerleaders.

Parade features sights, sounds

Clowns, floats and royalty were featured in the 1989 Homecoming parade presented for the enjoyment of the students and community on October 6th. Famous quotes, the theme for float entries this year, inspired sophomores, juniors and seniors to work on the floats every night at the community building.

Organizational entries were also featured for the public's entertainment. The art club, one of the newest organizations, won the best entry award. Entering with, "It's not over 'till the fat lady sings," seniors won the best float award. Juniors, who were awarded the spirit stick, entered with, "Give us victory or give us death." Sophomores entered with, "Together we shall achieve Victory."

Together students, faculty, and organizations worked to present a colorful and spirited parade for the enjoyment of all.

The junior class entered the parade with the mighty dragon prepared for battle.

The newest member of the cheerleading squad adds a touch of fantasy to the parade.

Amusing the crowd, the seniors' dragon and musical side kick, won the float award.

Rhonda Grady, Michelle Asher and Julie Allen distribute candy to the awaiting crowd.

Jason Jones, J. R. Han, Kari Calloway, Fred Sparks and Amber Latimer add a splash of color and ingenuity to the parade.

The Pom-Pon squad and marching band, after hours of practice, entertain the crowd with their perfected routines.

After hours of hard work, the sophomores enjoyed the parade by riding on their float and passing candy to the crowd.

Barnwarming '89: A Huge Success

FFA members divided into teams to participate in a cider-chugging contest. The goal was to see which team could consume the most cider within the time limit.

The Barnwarming Dance was held at the Cameron Community Fair Building on November 11. The dance was sponsored by the FFA and FHA organizations.

Parents, alumni, and faculty, as well as FFA and FHA members, attended the event.

Everyone who attended the dance enjoyed square dancing. Larry Leibig, a caller, taught the dancers some new steps.

Another feature of the dance was the crowning of the Barnwarming Court. The freshman royalty were Eddie Dotson and Brandi Griffin. Brian Lohman and Mekassa Rice were the sophomore royalty. Junior and senior royalty were Joey Whitaker and Kasey Sloan, juniors, and Shannon Griffin and Stacie Kretzschmer, seniors. Shannon Griffin and Kasey Sloan were selected as king and queen of the Barnwarming.

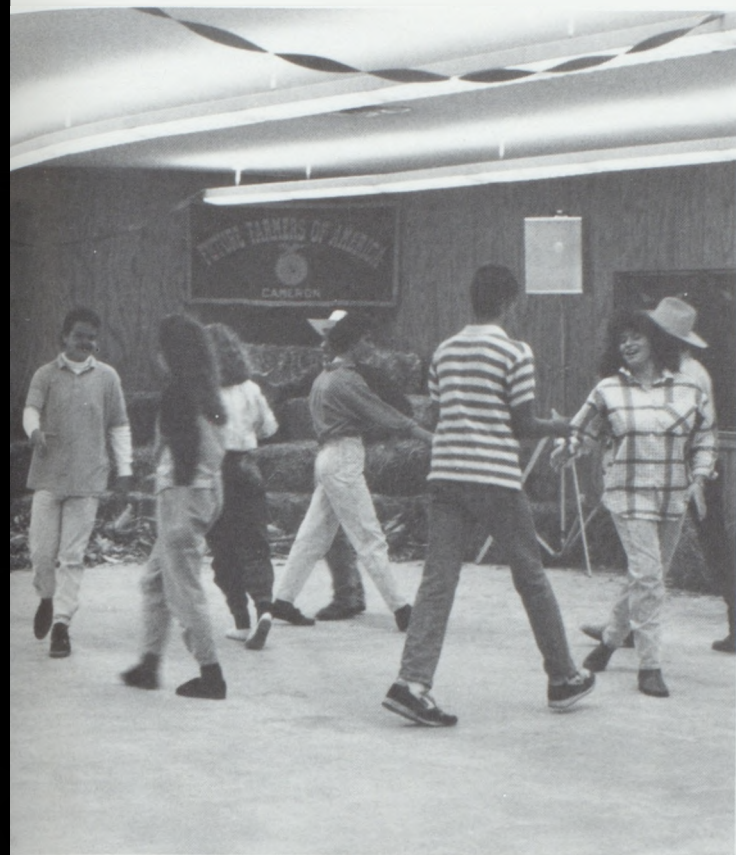

Exciting activities preceded the selection of the royalty. Lady queen candidates participated in a nail-driving contest.

Stacie Kretzschmer was the winner. Other activities included a "red ear of corn" contest. The girls who picked the red ear of corn from the stalks picked someone to kiss in front of the spectators. Teams also participated in a cider-chugging contest.

The lady members of FFA and FHA participated in a red ear of corn contest. The girls who picked the red ear of corn picked the boy of their choice to kiss in front of the other members.

Square Dancing was the highlight of the Barnwarming Dance.

Larry Leibig, a caller from St. Joseph, helped make the dance a success.

Students Elect Mystic Royalty

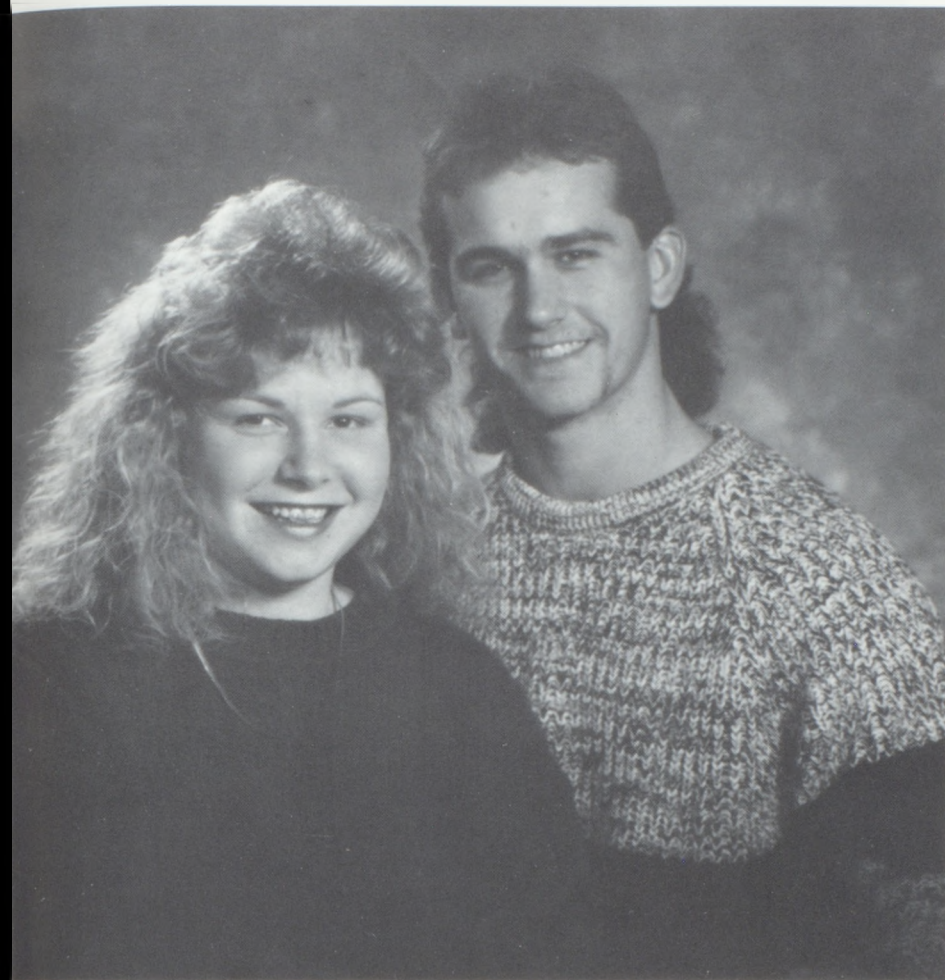

Each year the students of Cameron High are given the chance to nominate their favorite Senior boy and girl for Mystic Royalty. The two Seniors who receive the most nominations then become the reigning Mystic King and Queen.

Mystic King and Queen elections have been a tradition since 1942. The very first Mystic King and Queen were Norma Fiddick and Eddie Muders.

This year Travis Holzfaster and Beth Skidmore were chosen as the 47th annual Mystic King and Queen. Quad captain of the Pom-Pon squad, Beth has also been involved in DECA, Thespians, National Honor Society, concert choir, Student Council, golf squad, and the track team. Travis, tri-captain of the football team, has also participated on the wrestling team, golf squad, and carpentry class.

Rostine and Skidmore Winter Sports King and Queen

Chosen to reign over the 1989-90 Winter Sports Royalty were Rhea Rostine and Thad Skidmore. Nominated by the basketball and wrestling teams, Rostine and Skidmore were voted on by the student body a week later. Nominees from the freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior classes were also appointed.

After the initial nomination of three boys and girls from grades ninth through eleventh, and five boys and girls from the senior class, the running was narrowed down. One attendant was chosen to represent grades ninth through eleventh. They were junior attendants, Mindy Eder and Todd Trout; sophomore attendants, Niki Anderson and Brian Lohman; freshman attendants, Danielle Thorp and Dustin Teel. The five boys and girls from the senior class also went through a preliminary elimination process before the King and Queen could be elected. The student body chose two girls and one boy to represent their class. Kristi Buck, Teresa McCauley, and Keith Young were chosen to represent the senior class in the Winter Sports Royalty.

Rostine and Skidmore were crowned February 2nd at the Winter Sports ceremony, were faculty, student body, and parents attentively watched. Presented with a crown and a bouquet of flowers, Rostine and Skidmore happily accepted their titles of King and Queen.

THE TIME HAS COME . . .

The graduating class of 1990 held their commencement exercises on May 24, 1990. Valedictorian Joetta Hartley and Salutatorian Tammy Watkins led the procession of graduating seniors. After being seated, the seniors listened to the senior choir members give their last performance at CHS. After a heart-rending version of "Somewhere Out There", Gordon Kingsly, president of William Jewel College, delivered an inspiring speech to an attentive crowd. Other commencement exercises were held to honor the seniors' last days in high school. Among them were Baccalaureate, which was held on May 20, and Class Night, which was held on May 21. On these nights seniors received scholarships and certificates of achievement.

After graduation the Jaycee's held an all night lock-in at the high school. Music, bowling, movies and sports were provided for the graduates and their guests. They also raffled off a variety of items. The night ended at 5:30 the next morning.

Student Council Leads School

The 1989-1990 Student Council was very active through the entire school year. With four strong officers leading the group many things were accomplished. Homecoming and Winter Sports were successfully pulled-off along with many other activities. In September the annual induction ceremony was held in which all officers and members were inducted. Student Council advisors are Mr. James Funk, Ms. Jimmye Livingston, and Mr. Al Dow.

To start the year off right, FHA held a new member introduction party. To prepare for their duties, the officers attended an officer's workshop during the fall at Ludlow. In October an initiation ceremony and reception was held for new members. Everyone went to MWSC in November for regional meeting where they enjoyed hearing Mindy Hawkins speak. As December approached, FHA became even busier. Each member adopted a grandparent at the nursing home and hosted a Christmas party for the residents. Afterwards members exchanged gifts at a pizza party at the school. The pace didn't slow any in January as they geared up for the Sweetheart Dance. February was filled with many activities such as the dance, FHA week, regional officer screening, and a pizza fundraiser. In March members attended Star Events at Mid-Buch and Maryville. As the year came to a close, FHA held local officer screening and went to the Waldo Astoria for a dinner theater in April. To close out the year, officers were initiated for the following year at an awards banquet for members and parents.

"Kristi Bray, don't play in the cheese. You're supposed to be making pizzas!"

Combining fun with work, FFA raised over $18,000 during the annual fruit sale in order to fund a variety of projects and activities.

Attending the American Royal at Kemper Arena in association with FFA National Convention, freshmen members and officers heard former Pittsburgh Steeler quarterback Terry Bradshaw speak.

Barnwarming is another annual FFA tradition, held this year at the Community Fair Building. Shannon Griffin and Kasey Sloan were elected king and queen. During the summer, twenty members assembled playground equipment at the swimming pool park for children in the community.

This year's publications staff had their work cut out for them. Early in the year the group decided to include Prom 1990 and 1990 graduation in the Mystic. This caused the Mystic to come out in late summer, when in previous years it came out at the end of the school year.

Epsilon Beta Checks Out

Epsilon Beta-better known as library aides- have many duties besides the obvious checking out of books and magazines. They also put up the morning papers, check in new magazines, type book reviews and many other activities.

Usually the club holds a Christmas party for members; however this year the party was called off because of weather. They also hold an end of school party for members.

The purpose of Epsilon Beta is much the same as that of the teacher's aides, to assist Mrs. Fish. In addition, it allows anyone possibly interested in pursuing such as career a chance to experience library

This year Epsilon Beta acquired a sort foreign flair with both exchange students becoming members. Nils Walters from Sweden assisted Mrs. Fish first hour and Angela Fukatsch helped second hour. Angela stated, "It's a lot of fun."

FTA, Hackers Plan For Future

FTA is short for Future Teachers of America. FTA's purpose is to give students an understanding of the teaching profession. During the course of the year, students are able to teach a class for a day. During the day, the student makes lesson plans and teaches for that day. After the day of teaching is complete, the student has the privilege of coming back to the class to see what the class learned.

This year's FTA members had the opportunity to participate in this cadet teaching. Besides the cadet teaching, two FTA members had the chance to help elementary students with their reading. The two students were Michelle Asher and Lori Pulliam. More students would have had the same chance, but with the hectic spring schedule, the program was unable to be completed.

The Computer Club is in its first year of existence at CHS. "The Computer Club's purpose is to promote legal and ethical use of computer software, and to start a public-domain library where games can be borrowed for free," according to club sponsor, Al Dow. In the future, Dow would like to see the club raise money for a color printer.

The club participated in several contests this year. They participated in a contest in Maryville where they placed eighth as a team. They also participated in district and state competition. At districts, they placed first, and at state, they placed third.

Jazz Ensembles Make Impression

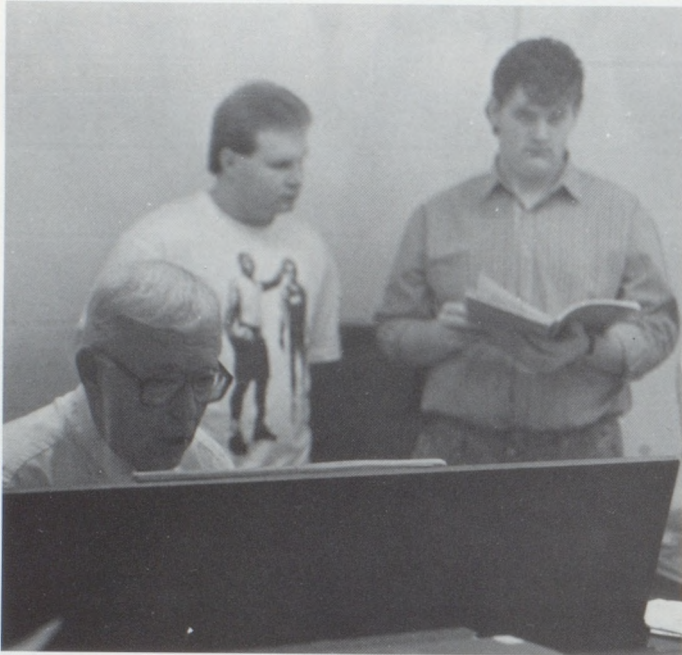

Cameron High School was represented well in 1989-90. CHS Jazz Band participated in many activities during the school year. The Jazz Band played Christmas carols for the high school before Christmas vacation began. They also participated in the annual Bandarama. Each one of the Jazz Band members is also a member of the distinguished Symphonic Band. They also participated in the band's Christmas and Spring concerts.

The CHS Jazz Choir, like the Jazz Band, also participated in many different activities. The Jazz Choir helped the Concert Choir with fund raisers for the Choir's trip to the MMEA Convention held at TanTarA this year. They also participated in the choral Christmas and Spring concerts. The Jazz Choir was going to participate in the Jazz Choir Festival in Maryville, but were unable to attend.

The Concert Choir participated in several fundraising activities for their trip to Tan-Tara. The activities included a raffle for pizza, a raffle for a model train, a pancake dinner at McDonald's and several other activities. After they raised their money, they were off to Tan-Tara, where they were featured at the MMEA Convention at the Lake of the Ozarks. After returning to Cameron, the choir had no time to rest, as they had to get ready for districts. Preparation paid off; they received a 1 at districts. To end their year on a high note, they performed at the Spring Concert.

Choir Attends MMEA At TanTarA

CHS Concert Choir had the privilege of performing at the MMEA Convention at TanTarA on the Lake of the Ozarks during January. The choir stayed at the Grand Glaze Inn where they enjoyed a whirlpool and sauna.

The night before their performance, the choir attended a banquet where they presented choral director Dave Goodwin and accompanist Kathryn Goodwin, his wife, a plaque with a picture of the choir and a list of the selections to be performed the following day.

Of the performance, Mr. Goodwin stated, "It was an excellent concert, far better than I would have thought earlier."

Glee Clubs Lift Voices in Song

Boys and girls glee started Thanksgiving break off to a festive start by performing their annual heart-warming songfest of patriot tunes. They next practiced numerous hours preparing for the Christmas Concert. The glee clubs had a brief break before beginning rehearsals for district contest at NWMSU in March. After countless hours of practice, the groups were rewarded with a 1 rating at districts. The finish out the year, the two musical clubs performed at the Spring Concert, which featured soloists and ensemble groups that received 1's at Maryville.

New Clubs On The Block

Two new organizations were introduced during the 1989-1990 school year. The Art Club is being sponsored by Mrs. Livingston and the science club, Beta Chi Pi, is being sponsored by Miss Eaton and Mr. Puckett. The first place organization trophy was awarded to the Art Club at Homecoming for their float. In December, members repainted signs for the Middle School. Organization T-shirts were designed by Fred Sparks. The Art Club accompanied the Academic Bowl team to see an impressionistic show at the Nelson Art Gallery. Beta Chi Pi elected officers in the fall, these are: pres.-Mary Lou Eads, v.p.-Melissa Parsons, sec./treas.-Tracy Schemmer, and StuCo rep.-Suzie Norris. A science demonstration at Parkview and the process of determining new membership kept all involved busy.

THE TRAVELERS

Paul Worstell, Sheila Stoebner, Kelly Hanrahan and friends pose for one last picture in the halls of CHS.

The night lights of Cameron shine on as the cruisers wave goodbye to the "80's".

J.R. Hahn takes a relaxing drive after a hard day of school.
