Things That Make You Go

Christie Allen and Travis Gage hang tough at the Back to School Dance.

What can be said about Cameron High School in the year 1992? HMM . . . Faces, groups, events, and teams fill the hallways of CHS with spirit. Growing up with friends and classmates, conquering different classes (ranging from coloring to physics), and getting to know many teachers and administrators have brought about many memories that easily make us go HMM . . . Adapting to change (for the better ?) has made students go HMM . . . the most.

Now, as you look through the yearbook, think of the times and events that the school year provided you. HMM . . .

Heidi Deweese, Angela Goodale, and Jennifer Powell can't believe the lengths to which the school goes in order to keep them on the premises.

Frankie breaks the news to Shena: "Santa does not exist."

HMM . . .

Troy Hende in thirty years as a toxic waste manager, visits Biology II.

Assistant Principal, Jerry "Hairy" Steele, appears quite satisfied with his spontaneous growth of hair.

Juniors audition for the Pepsi commercial, "Chill Out."

Andi Gibson upholds her favorite pastime.

Howard's Market

Tracy Walker, the Human Pretzel, gets comfy on a field trip.

What did these trouble makers do this time? Hmm . . .

8th Grade

Eighth graders face a whole new life as they enter the high school. A couple of their big changes are that they are no longer big, bad seventh graders but are low on the ladder again. Eighth graders can also go to their lockers after each hour so they could get rid of those bags, even though it takes until January to do so.

Freshmen class officers are as follows: Jeremiah Erickson, vice-president; Jesse Gray, treasurer; Mindy Jones, president; and Betsy Hane, secretary.

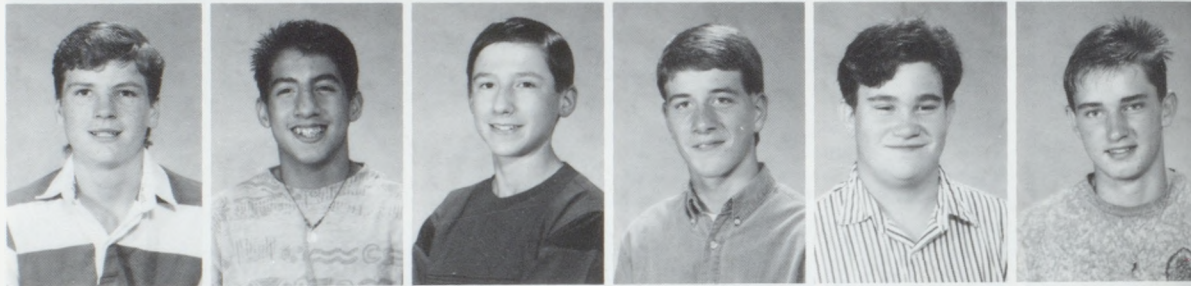

The freshman class started their first real year of high school with the anticipation of being able to choose their own classes. Okay, so maybe their choices were limited, but at least they were somewhat able to pick which hours they took required courses. No longer the youngest class in school, the ninth graders began the countdown to 1995.

The sophomore class officers are as follows: Tom Worland, president; Clay Watkins, vice-president; Mark Ramsey, secretary; and Travis Letterman, treasurer.

Sophomores are experiencing exciting, new things this year. They are the first ones to get their permit at the age of fifteen and a half, which gives them even more experience when it comes time to take the "big" driver's test. Homecoming, another new experience, was no challenge for them. Rather, they were awarded the spirit stick and the best float award.

Junior class officers are president, Dustin Teel; vice-president, Marie Barbee; secretary, Marie Mast; treasurer, Scott Burnett.

The class of 1993 has proven to be creative as well as efficient. Their float, "Run for the Border," was a proud display of class effort.

Juniors raised over $4000 toward Prom. From the romantic carriage rides to the fabulous ballroom, the junior class created an incredibly elegant atmosphere for an exceptional prom at the Elms. Through the years, the class of 1993 has continued to excel, in sports, academics, and most definitely spirit, a tradition that has become their trademark.

Off To See The Wizard

The cast of "The Wizard of Oz" lead viewers on a pleasurable journey down the yellow brick road. "Oz" featured Andi Gibson in the lead, with Donna Walker in her directing debut.

The Wizard (Jason Chappell) tells Dorothy he can't take her back to Kansas with him in his nuclear rocket.

The Wicked Witch of the West (Cindy Fenn) blames Dorothy (Andi Gibson) for killing her sister.

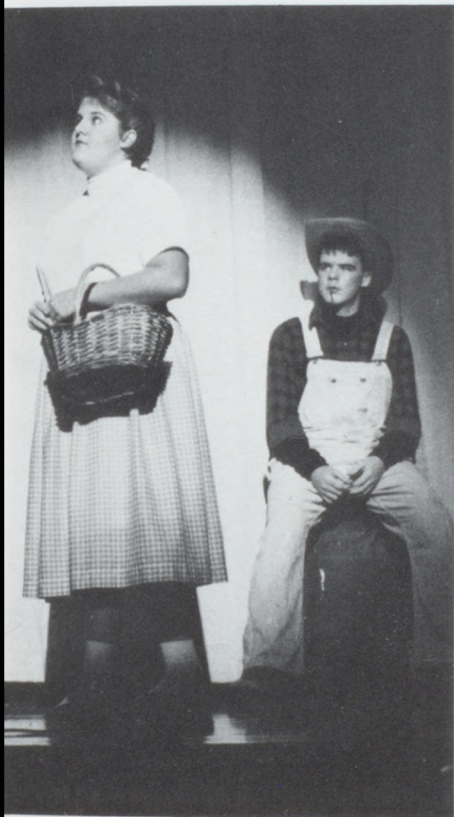

The Old Oz Lady (Jennifer Powell) grabs for the Cowardly Lion's (Marvin Randall) tail while she hits him with her umbrella.

The Good Witch Glenda (Angela Zwygart) asks Dorothy (Andi Gibson), "Are you a good witch or a bad witch? Which?"

Cameron Elkettes

The Cowardly Lion (Marvin Randall) and the Tinman (Kirk McCarty) have fun dancing the night away along with the jitterbugs.

The Lollipop kids (Michael Klenk, Brandon Mallory, and Courtney Fischer) greet Dorothy with a song and lollipop. (Great legs guys).

Kirk McCarty, Marvin Randall, Andi Gibson, and Chris Neal sing their hearts out after a long performance.

Dorothy (Andi Gibson) star-gazes as Farmhand Joe (Tom Terry) sits quietly behind her.

The Munchkin Mayor (Carole Burnett) tells Farmer Munchkin (Amy Coy) that she has to knock on the stranger's door because the house landed on her property.

Queen Niki Anderson reigned over the 1991 Homecoming festivities. Coronation began at 1:30 with the tradition of the attendants and future queen marching up the aisles, escorted by members of the football team to the procession played by senior Christie Allen on the trumpet. Guest speaker Mike Poland, vice president and legal consultant for Farmers State Bank, gave the traditional alumni speech. After Niki Anderson was crowned queen, the jazz choir sang "My Sweet Lady", the traditional Homecoming Coronation song. She then crowned the attendants and handed out victory pins, made by the cheerleaders, to all of the varsity football players.

Spirit Week Kicks Off Homecoming

A tradition began at CHS this Homecoming - Spirit Week. This event consisted of daily school activities. Each day students were encouraged to dress-up according to the theme for that day. Awards were given for the most spirit shown in all the different categories. The themes for the different days were as follows: Monday-Hat Day; Tuesday-Hero Day; Wednesday-Come As You Are Day; and Thursday-Black and Gold Day. Thursday also consisted of the traditional coronation ceremony, followed by the parade and then later that evening, the bonfire. Even though there was no school on game day, a pep rally was held at the football field for the football players. After the game, much of the student body attended the annual Homecoming Dance.

Tradition Marches On

The 1991 Homecoming Parade was definitely a time to remember. Many students, faculty, and patrons of the community were involved. The "mighty" sophomores won the float competition and the spirit stick. The FTA float won the organizational float competition.

The 1991 Barnwarming Dance was a huge success, with more FFA and FHA members in attendance, 80 total, since the tradition began in 1980. The caller began at 7:00 p.m. with teaching all of the inexperienced square-dancers how to do-si-do to the familiar country tunes. FHA sponsored the games, such as cider juggling, the red ear of corn kissing game, and some new ones like a wheel barrel race around hay bales. A toe-tappin, thigh-slappin' good time was had by all who turned out to take a twirl.

Graduation is a time . . .

to celebrate individual achievement. Each of us has established and acted upon our own goals in order to reach a common goal. And we will leave here today with a greater sense of individual worth, for we have met the challenge of completing one phase of our lives in order that we might move on to other dreams.

Some of us have chosen to attend Missouri colleges. Others of us have chosen to continue our education further away from home, may it be Illinois, Utah, Oklahoma, and even Denmark. A few of us will honorably serve our country in the armed forces. And still others have chosen to work, marry, and raise a family. Indeed, it is a time to celebrate our individual choices and dreams, but it is also a time to celebrate what we have accomplished together, what we have learned about each other and the world we share.

— Jennifer Powell, valedictorian, and Heather Horn, salutatorian

Moving Ahead

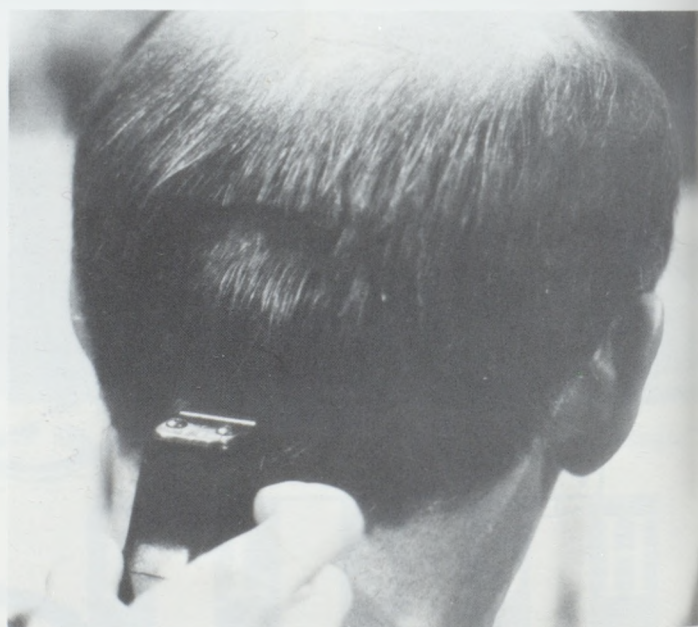

Student Council adopted and met two new challenges this year — becoming a District officer school and winning state recognition.

Heavy campaigning under the theme of "Teenage Mutant Ninja Dragons" at the Northwest District meeting in Lawson resulted in Cameron's decisive election as the new District Secretary-Treasurer school.

CHS also worked to earn recognition by the Missouri Association of Student Councils. This "Gold Award" was presented to the council at the state convention in Cape Girardeau.

From the first day of school until the last, Student Council was dedicated to planning memorable activities for the student body. Officers attended summer camp to prepare for the tasks ahead, the first of which was planning Homecoming 1992. Throughout the year, STUCO continued the recycling program and Student and Teacher of the Month awards. Winter Sports, STUCO Olympics, and sponsorship of assemblies were also responsibilities of the hard-working group. President Jennifer Powell commented on the year by saying, "The officers and members did an outstanding job. Being on STUCO is a tremendous commitment — I'm really proud of the work they've done! I hope the student body has enjoyed and benefited from our services. Also, I'd like to thank the sponsors for their caring energy and endless support."

FHA . . . Gotta Have It!

The FHA got off to a really good start. At the first of the year, they held a new member introduction party at the pool park. In October, an initiation ceremony and reception was held for new members. Everyone went to MWSC in November for regional meeting.

Throughout the year, FHA members visited a nursing home. February was filled with many activities such as the Sweetheart dance, FHA week, regional officer screening and a Valentine fund raiser. As the year came to a close, FHA held local officer screening and went to Tiffany's Attic for a dinner theater. The year ended with new officers being initiated for the following year at an awards banquet for members and parents.

Leadership For A Growing Planet

FFA has spent a lot of time preparing for exciting events this year, such as the Watermelon Bust, Ag Expo, Barnwarming Dance, and contest teams. Members took a trip to Worlds of Fun and attended a Royals game. The chapter hit it's goal of $22,000 this year in fruit sales. FFA adopted a one mile stretch of high way on Interstate 35 and picked up trash along the route. The 61st annual convention proved to be a huge success, the Creed was changed for the first time since the 38th National Convention. Toys for Tots greatly appreciated the helping hand that Cameron FFA extended toward the organization.

The chapter sponsors a Businessmen's Breakfast where all of the community business people are thanked for sponsoring FFA. FFA attempts to live out it's creed. "... And in the ability of progressive agriculturists to serve our own and the public interests in producing and marketing the product of our toil."

"I believe that American agriculture can and will hold true to the best traditions of our national life and that I can exert an influence in my home and community which will stand solid for my part in that inspiring task."

Shona Pollard, Carole Burnett & Kent Gates follow the FFA Creed. "I believe in being happy myself & playing square with those whose happiness depends upon me."

Members of the FFA follow the Motto of "Learning to do, Doing to Learn, Earning to Live and Living to Serve" by planting trees on the north side of the Cameron Community Fair Building. The trees will add to the beauty and help with wind protection in the future years.

FTA Has Many Members

With twenty-four members, FTA had the highest membership than ever before. FTA's purpose is to give students a better understanding of the teaching profession. During the course of the year, FTA held a babysitting clinic and participated in cadet teaching. Missy Harper is one of the members that cadet taught in an English class. All of the members took a trip to Columbia for State Convention. The 1991 Homecoming float won first place for the best organization float. Mrs. Imogene Clark took over sponsorship from Mr. David Lee.

Key Club Takes Off

As the newest organization in the 1991-92 school year, Key Club got off to a big start with eighteen members. Key Club is a school and community service organization, meaning they help serve the elderly and children. Key Club is a school approved, international organization for Freshmen through Seniors. During the course of the year, they held a chili supper and helped the Kiwanis Club, the adult sponsoring organization, sell peanuts. The District Convention for Key Club was held in Springfield, Mo. Mr. John Berry was the sponsor.

FBLA: Making A Difference

This year, FBLA tried many new activities. To get back into the swing of things, FBLA held a Back-To-School Dance. By holding this dance, FBLA accomplished two of its main goals:

to strengthen the confidence of students in themselves and their work and to promote school loyalty. Practicing efficient money management was met by conducting two fundraisers; a poster catalog and selling Christmas candy canes. At District Contest, students participated in events such as Keyboarding, Public and Impromptu Speaking, and written contests.

Future Problem Solving

Stepping into the world of tomorrow, recognizing possible problems of the future, and creating solutions that could amaze even the Jetsons — these are the welcome duties of Future Problem Solvers. Two Cameron FPS teams were ranked among the best in the state on the Sports Ethics problem this year. As a result, the teams earned a spot at state competition at the University of Missouri in Columbia, April 3 and 4. The Problem Solvers faced the Land Use issue in an intense two-hour written competition followed by a skit competition where FPS'ers act out their "Main Problem" and "Best Solution."

Cameron has a successful tradition of Future Problem Solving. These teams, or combinations of their members and past Future Problem Solvers, have attended two international competitions and over fourteen state competitions since 1987. With knowledge of a variety of future problems and desire to create solutions for the future, these Cameron students hold genuine hopes for tomorrow.

DECA

The Cameron DECA chapter has had a very successful year. Each of us feels a certain amount of fear when challenging ourselves to go beyond anything we have yet accomplished. It's only human nature that we feel that way . . . but, like everything else in life, self-confidence and self-esteem are built by challenging ourselves to go that extra step. DECA members have gone that extra step this year.

In October, Heather Horn became District One Vice-President and member of the Missouri State Action Team. Heather was challenged to make the Northwest District successful, competitive, and fun. From December to February, members worked hard on research projects in order to compete at District. Seventeen students successfully placed and qualified for State competition. After a job well done, four DECA members rode the waves of achievement to Anaheim, California. Those members were Frankie Barker, Wendy Dickerson, Heather Horn, and Christina Mast.

DECA members will undertake competition among themselves as they graduate into their life's career.

Christina Mast is awarded the first-place trophy for Finance & Credit at State DECA.

Epsilon Beta - better known as the backbone of the library, has completed a most challenging year. After mastering the new computer systems, learning how to run the micro fiche, and most importantly figuring out how to repair the copy machine, each one of the students feel that working in the library has allowed them to master their skills and will prepare them for college. Constantly having to reorganize, check out books, and deliver over due slips keeps their days filled with work; proving that being in Epsilon Beta is not an easy task. However, with work comes rewards, and this year the club got to experience two. First, Epsilon Beta took a field trip to Crown Center where they ice skated, shopped, and ate. Their final reward was a pizza party. These rewards made their hard work worth it.

ACADEMIC

After last year's great season this years Academic Bowl team came out with somewhat of a disappointing season. The team members were happy about the good showing they had in the many tournaments and regular season matches. The team finished in the high rankings in every tournaments. With the high showings in the tournaments, the conference seemed kind of low with a sixth place finish with a five-hundred record.

Art Club was organized to bring out the creative talents in students. Not only do they sketch, draw, and paint, but Mrs. Livingston has challenged them to bring their innermost ideas to life through art. This year one of the club's greatest events was going skating at Crown Center with the Epsilon Beta. The final highlight was their annual trip to the Nelson Art Gallery.

Computer Whiz Kids

Instructed by Mr. Dow, Cameron's computer club sets the wave for the future. This year it's members include: Chris Denny, Kyle Fischer, Angie Lintner, Sabrina Lintner, Matt Anderson, April Williams, Jennifer Powell, Shená Walker, Heather Horn, Dena Wiss, Angela Zwygart, Michelle McQueen, Erin Tomlin, and Jennifer Byers. These students are Cameron's masterminds behind the computers.

Creating a Masterpiece

Every year the Carpentry and Interior Design classes work together to build a house, which is then put on the market to be sold. The Carpentry class is involved in many facets of construction; they do everything from laying the foundation to insulating the walls. The Interior Design class joins the Carpentry class when it comes time to put the "finishing touches" on the house. They also do a wide range of things, from finishing wood trims to selecting floor coverings. The two classes did a tremendous job on the split-entry style house they constructed this year.

Students Against Driving Drunk's main focus is to teach students the dangers of alcohol. The new SADD chapter is advised by Mr. Berry and has approximately twenty active members. Despite a limited budget, the members carried out some very successful activities. They put up posters at local businesses and passed out red ribbons to students, reminding everyone not to drink and drive. All of their activities have been a reflection of the devotion they have for their cause and the bright future they look forward to.

Friends Listening and Students Helping is a peer helper group, that consists of members chosen by an annual survey in the sophomore and junior advisement sessions. Members are trained in helping others by learning to use effective listening and communicating skills. Each peer helper is taught to be receptive to another's feelings. The members do not give advice, instead their goal is to help the individual in need to make a decision on his own. This new organization is advised by Mr. Markt. There are plans to continue its service next year.

NHS

Emphasizing Four Creeds

Membership in the NHS is one of the highest achievements that an individual may attain at CHS. Members are chosen by the faculty on the basis of their character, scholarship, leadership, and service.

The induction ceremony for the 91-92 members was held in February of 1991. The new members of 92-93 were inducted in Spring of 1992.

During the year, NHS planned many activities. The two best known are the Christmas party for the Special Services. The week before Christmas, NHS members head over to the Special Services building with snacks and games. Then Santa brings presents for everyone. The other was the Computer Match-ups for Valentine's Day. NHS members pass out surveys to be filled out and put into the computer. Each name is then matched with ten other names.

CHS Jazz Choir and Glee Clubs

The Jazz Choir began the year holding auditions for new members. Two weeks after auditions, the Jazz Choir had its first performance — Coronation. The Jazz Choir had several Christmas performances for organizations around town. They also performed at the Christmas and Spring Concerts.

The Girls' and Boys' Glee Clubs consist of all females and males in Mr. Goodwin's choir and chorus classes. These groups participated in the Christmas and Spring Concerts and also District Contest.

"Sing loud, don't stop!" is a familiar phrase from the mouth of fearless choir leader Dave Goodwin. Throughout the year, the CHS Concert Choir participated in the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Spring Concerts, caroled for the Christmas lighting, and sang at District contest. Eight members of the Cameron High School Choir auditioned and were selected as members of the District Choir. Of those eight, Andi Gibson and Marvin Randall were selected as members of the Missouri All-State Choir which included a trip to Tan-Tar-A to perform a concert with the other top singers of the state.

Band

“Quality is Uncompromising”

Hard-working, ambitious, and dedicated to quality are just some of the characteristics the Cameron band has had in the past years. This year was no different. Director, Dave Taylor, successfully led the band to another great year. This year the members of each section were asked to challenge each other for chair positions. Many talented sophomores came out on top, showing that the band program is also concerned with the younger students. Mr. Taylor and Mrs. Hawkins work well as a team bringing the woodwinds, brass, and percussion together and providing the sound that Cameron is famous for. This enables the band to work together on challenging music such as this year's choice for contest "Fanfare and Dance Segments". Overall, band gives students the opportunity to realize their talent for music and provides them a way of expressing themselves through it.

The 1991-92 Award-Winning Varsity Pom-Pon Squad

Cameron's 1991-92 Varsity Pom-Pon squad again carried on their proud tradition. Receiving the Sweepstakes Award, which qualifies the squad for national competition, was one of the squad's highest awards. Other awards include the spirit stick, blues on the squad's routine, and a number one rating on the routine they took to St. Louis for state competition. The squad again received the honor of performing before the Kansas City Royals Games and Missouri State Basketball 3-A Semi-Finals. Perhaps the highlight of the year was Mrs. Tyrrell's taco party, where even Santa came to visit and put each Pom-Pon girl on his lap. Through all of the squads adventures from the Arch and Union Station in St. Louis to the field in Royals Stadium, they served as proud representatives of Cameron.

Catch The Spirit

The Varsity Cheerleading squads had an awesome year. The Football squad started the year off with many hard practices in the summer. They held a pool party for the football guys at the end of August. Secret football players were picked in September, and each player received a gift before home games. Julie Ausmus was the sponsor of the squad. In November, the basketball cheerleaders began practice. Their year was short, but fun. They held many fun and exciting pep rallies throughout the season. Janel Jackson was the sponsor of the squad. The wrestling cheerleaders also began practice in November. They were gone many Saturdays to attend the matches. Their sponsor was Cindy Pope.

The Creative Writing class (a.k.a. Journalism) assumed many of the same tasks and many new ones throughout the year. The "Tank" and the "Mystic" are the same tasks the members of this class have tackled year after year. The 91-92 Creative Writing class also took on a new assignment — "CHS Live" aired I-35 on Monday nights. "CHS Live" became a video voice of the high school to the community. The CW class, advised by Glory Fagan, was a fun-filled class full of hard work.
